

ThinkOut

@ThinkOutEU
info@thinkout.be
www.thinkout.be

Warsaw 15-09-2017

OSCE, tolerance and non-discrimination, working session 8

If we want to involve all citizens equally, we need to achieve that all citizens of the European can have access to all the systems, like health care and education.

Education starts in the nursery school. When the children move to the primary school, the school decides wheather the children are ready to start at the primary school.

The criterium is the capability of the children.

When it comes to children of a minority background the criteria are different.

One can not use the language as an excuse to not move to the primary school.

When started at the primary school, the counselor of the school dis advices to the children of a minority background to subscribe in a university.

The discrimination of children of a minority background in education has to end.

ThinkOut asks the OSCE to point to the participating states to give the same chances to all the students and not to discriminate the children of a minority background