1.2 What national legislation has been adopted in your State to implement the above-mentioned agreements and arrangements?

Pursuant to Article 118 of the Constitution of Republic of Macedonia, international agreements ratified in accordance with the Constitution are a part of the internal legal order and cannot be changed by law.

The Criminal Code of the Republic of Macedonia sanctions the following:

In addition to the criminal offences foreseen in the above-mentioned articles, the following criminal offences from the Criminal Code are also applied in cases of individual acts of terrorism:

- Unauthorized procurement and possession of nuclear materials (Article 231 and 394);
- Unauthorized production and release for trade of generally dangerous materials (Article 295),

- Misuse of chemical or biological weapons (Article 407-b);
- Endangering persons under international protection (Article 420 and
- Taking hostages (Article 421)

In relation to these criminal offences, the following articles of the Criminal Code may be applied: Intent (Article 13); Negligence (Article 14); Attempt (Article 19); Joint perpetration (Article 22); Conspiracy to commit a crime (Article 393) and Criminal association (Article 394).

Pursuant to the Strategy for reform of criminal legislation of 2008, amendments to the Criminal Code were adopted in 2008, 2009, 2013, 2014 and 2015.

The aim of the amendments was to implement international standards and to improve the legal framework regarding a number of issues, among which the confiscation of property and proceeds, criminal liability of legal persons, crimes of terrorism, economic crimes and cyber crime.

In relation to the crimes of terrorism, the amendments were made primarily with the goal of harmonizing the national legislation with the following: the Convention of the Council of Europe for the Prevention of Terrorism, the Convention for the Prevention of Financing of Terrorism, the Framework Decision for fighting terrorism (2202/475/JHA) of June 13, 2002, the Framework Decision of the Council of Ministers of the European Union by 2005 and the Council Framework Decision 2005/212/JHA of February 24, 2005 for the confiscation of income, assets and property related to crime.

Specifically, the amendments further upgrade the crimes in Article 394-a: Terrorist organization and two new criminal offences were introduced: Article 394-b: Terrorism and Article 394-c: Financing of terrorism.

In accordance with article 5, 6 and 7 of the Council of Europe Convention on the Prevention of Terrorism, acts of public provocation to commit a terrorist offence, and recruitment and training for terrorism, were included within the above mentioned amendments: Article 394-a: Terrorist organization, Article 394-b: Terrorism and Article 394-c: Financing of terrorism.

Pursuant to the provisions (of 2009) on the confiscation of property and proceeds and the removal of objects, the "perpetrator shall be subject to confiscation of the indirect property gain, consisting of the following:

- the property into which the proceeds of crime have been transformed or converted,
- the property acquired from legitimate sources if proceeds of crime have been intermingled, fully or partially, with that property, up to the estimated value of the intermingled proceeds of crime, and,
- the income or other benefits derived from the proceeds of crime, from property into which such proceeds of crime have been transformed or converted or from property with which such proceeds of crime have been intermingled, contains the proceeds from a crime, up to the estimated value of the intermingled proceeds of crime."

Moreover, it is provided that: "The proceeds from crime shall be also confiscated from family members of the perpetrator to whom the proceeds were transferred, if it is obvious that they did not provide compensation that corresponds to the value of the obtained proceeds or from third parties, if they fail to prove that they paid an amount corresponding to the value of the proceeds for the item or property."

Furthermore, extended confiscation has been introduced and it has particular application to crimes related to terrorism. The provisions provide for confiscation of property which "was acquired within a certain period of time before the court conviction, which the court establishes according to the circumstances of the case, but not longer than 5 years before committing the crime, when based on all circumstances the court is reasonably convinced that the property surpasses the lawful income of the perpetrator and it originates from such an act."

In accordance with international standards, criminal liability for legal persons was introduced in the 2008 amendments and supplements to these provisions of the Criminal Code were made with the 2009 amendments.

Namely, in accordance with Article 28-A and B, in the cases determined by law, the legal entity is responsible for the offence committed by the responsible person in the legal entity, on behalf or for the benefit of a legal person.

The legal entity is responsible for a crime committed by his employee or agent of the legal entity, which has acquired significant property benefits or has inflicted considerable damage to another, under the conditions specified in Article 28-C.

Liability of a legal person does not exclude criminal liability of a natural person as the perpetrator of the offence.

1.3 What are the roles and missions of military, paramilitary and security forces and the police in preventing and combating terrorism in your State?

In conformity with the Law on Internal Affairs, the Security and Counter-Intelligence Directorate in the framework of the Ministry of Internal Affairs is, among other things, in charge of combating and preventing terrorism.

The Intelligence Agency is tasked with collecting data and information of importance to the security and defense of the Republic of Macedonia, including the issue of terrorism.

The Military Security and Intelligence Service is, inter alia, responsible for detecting and preventing all forms of terrorist activities directed against the defense of the Republic of Macedonia.

In September 2011, the Government of the Republic of Macedonia adopted the National Strategy for Combating Terrorism. The National Strategy for Combating Terrorism is a general framework for actions of the Republic of Macedonia in the fight against terrorism, which contains guidelines for improving existing measures and establishing new mechanisms and instruments for preventing and combating terrorism. The strategy builds on the of National concept for Defense and Security, adopted on 23 June 2003 which defined the need for taking a range of specific measures and activities, promoting and developing procedures and mechanisms to combat terrorism, illegal migration, drug trafficking, trafficking with weapons, people and strategic materials and the need for better coordination and development of common operating procedures, especially with the armed forces in the fight against terrorism and border security.

With the Strategy, the Republic of Macedonia presents its clear commitment to combat terrorism at national, regional and global levels, in order to protect democratic values specified in the Constitution, allowing its citizens to live in a free, safe state governed by the rule of law.

The aim of the strategy is to create the basic preconditions for the Suppression of Terrorism formulated through:

Identifying the forms of terrorist threat;

- Establishing mechanisms for enforcement of the activities to combat terrorism;

- Taking complex measures for their suppression;
- Determining preventive activities to protect against all manifestations of terrorism

Under the Strategy, a permanent working body was established, composed of members of the Security and Counterintelligence Directorate in the Ministry of Internal Affairs, the Intelligence Agency and the Military Security and Intelligence Service in the Ministry of Defense, as competent state institutions to combat terrorism. The working body is obliged, at least once a month, to hold meetings where an analysis, integration and assessment of all information relating to terrorism will be done for which it will inform the highest state authorities. It also foresees creation of a common database at national level, continuous exchange of data and information relating to terrorism and establishment of joint operational teams for managing specific cases related to terrorist activities.

1.4 Provide any additional relevant information on national efforts to prevent and combat terrorism, e.g., those pertaining inter alia to:

In addition to the relevant Articles of the Criminal Code presented under 1.2, the new Law on the Prevention of Money Laundering and Financing of Terrorism was adopted in September 2014 (Official Gazette 130/14).

For the purposes of alignment with the provisions of the Law on misdemeanors, the Law on prevention of money laundering and financing of terrorism has been amended. Law on Prevention of Money Laundering and Financing of Terrorism was published in the Official Gazette br.192 / 15 and entered into force on 12 November 2015.

The Law on the Prevention of Money Laundering and Financing of Terrorism has been harmonized with the Convention for the Suppression of the Financing of Terrorism, the FATF recommendations, the Convention on Laundering, Search, Seizure and Confiscation of the Proceeds from Crime and on the Financing of Terrorism of 2005 (Warsaw Convention), the EU III Directive, Moneyval recommendations, and other relevant international instruments in this area.

In order to implement the new FATF Recommendation I, and in order to identify national risks and vulnerabilities for ML/FT and to perform evaluation of the national AML/CFT system, the Financial Intelligence Office began implementation of the project "National assessment of the risks of money laundering and financing of terrorism". The aim of this project is to identify, assess and understand the ML/ FT risk of and to identify measures to promote national policies, to allocate resources and to provide guidance to obliged entities to perform risk assessment for the implementation of all AML/ CFT measures and actions adequate to certain risk. In September 2015 the Office, in cooperation with the World Bank and TAIEX, organized a workshop during which a prepared draft report was further reviewed by experts of the World Bank and all members - participants in the project. Currently, the report is under preparation and consultation prior to being forwarded to the Government for adoption. Based on the adopted report, an Action Plan will be prepared designing measures and actions to adjust the policy and legal framework, relocate resources, develop a proper system of control and supervision, programs and implementation of measures by debtor entities based on the principle "based on risk."

The FIO is in charge of collecting, processing, analyzing, keeping and submitting data to the competent authorities with the aim of disclosing and preventing money laundering and financing of terrorism.

For the purpose of raising awareness in respect of timely and effective implementation of measures against money laundering and financing of terrorism, in 2010 the Administration against Money Laundering and Financing of Terrorism published and disseminated the Guidelines for implementation of measures and actions aimed at preventing money laundering and financing of terrorism.

The implementation of the concept of Integrated Border Management through the adopted Strategy for Integrated Border Management (2003), establishment of the Border Police and transfer of competence from the Army to the Border Police (finalized in September 2005) also contributed to the strengthening of the capacities to fight terrorist threats. In December 2009, the Government of the Republic of Macedonia adopted National Strategy for Development of Established System of Integrated Border Management.

Furthermore, the Ministry of the Interior, trough conducting permanent training of the personnel charged with border control, as checking and surveillance, and through use of modern technical equipment for movement, surveillance and preventing illegal crossing of the border, undertakes enhanced operational measures at the border crossings to prevent terrorist threats and movement of terrorists and terrorist groups in the border zones, as well as to prevent use of forged travel and identification documents. On 27 April 2011 the process for implementation of fingerprints in the biometrical travel documents began.

The number of passports issued according to the new standards, in the period from April 2007 to March 2014 is 1.868.502.

Since 2011 the Republic of Macedonia takes an active part in the EU Instrument for Stability initiative for establishment of the CBRN Centers of Excellence (CoEs) for Southeastern Europe, Ukraine, Moldova, and the Caucasus. Following a decision by the Government, a National CBRN coordination body was established on June 19, 2012, consisting of representatives of all competent authorities. This body is headed by a National CBRN Coordinator coming from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Macedonia.

- Legal co-operation including extradition

The Republic of Macedonia has ratified all relevant international instruments containing provisions on international legal assistance in criminal matters.

The Law on International Cooperation in Criminal Matters was adopted in 2010. The main purpose for adoption of the Law on International Cooperation in Criminal Matters is to accomplish a transnational, unified cooperation between countries in the prevention of crime, which will correct many traditional principles on which the international cooperation was based. See 1.3

1.3 How does your State ensure public access to information related to your State's armed forces?

The Parliament of the Republic of Macedonia passed the Law on Free Access to Information of Public Character (Official Gazette of the Republic of Macedonia No. 13 of 1 February 2006). This law regulates the conditions, manner and procedure of realizing the right to free access to information of public character available from state institutions. (including the Ministry of Defense).

This law provides free availability and openness in the work of the information holders. For carrying out this law, a Commission for protection of the right for free access to information of public character has been formed.

The Commission for protection of the right for free access to information of public character publishes (to the media services) a list of holders of information of public character and of their responsible persons, once a year.

The Ministry of Defense of the Republic of Macedonia is on the list of holders of information of public character. For this purpose, a person has been chosen, holder of information, obligated to fulfill the obligations foreseen with the law.

The interested persons for access to information of public character contact the Ministry of Defense through regular mail, electronic mail or fax.

The security aspects of the defence matters have been continually present in the public and the non-governmental sector. It is important to note the increased involvement and interest of independent experts, scientific institutions and the academic circle. This transparent approach has resulted in numerous works and publications that affirm our security policy, and especially the strategic interests of the Republic of Macedonia for participation in the collective security systems.

The transparency and relevance of the defense policy have also been increased through the access to the internet web page of the Ministry of Defense. The defense and security institutions provide appropriate answers to defense issues of interest to parliamentarians and other security subjects, related to the evaluation and assessment of the security and political situation in the Republic of Macedonia. In the forthcoming period, the strategic goals incorporated in the Strategic Defense Review envisage an increased level of openness and involvement of the civilian sector in order to achieve the democratic goals of defense and security transparency and affirmation.

The concrete forms of public information are not just a constitutional and legal obligation, but they are subject of the Strategy of the Government of the Republic of Macedonia for transparency and public relations regarding the area of security and defence. The accessibility to information and the civilian participation in the development of defence and security policy is regulated by the Classified Information Law, and under procedure is the creation and adoption of supplemental legal acts in order to create a final distinction between the classified and non-classified information, defining thus the regime of its accessibility, utilisation and transfer. The legal framework therein is the new Law on Classified Documents adopted in March 2004. The issue of information accessibility remains to be predetermined by the fulfilment of the requirements set forth in the normative acts for information accessibility to the Parliament and the public.

The activities of the Ministry of Defense in the area of public relations are directed at the national and international public and community, as well as at the employees of the Ministry of Defense and the members of the Armed Forces. The transparency of these activities bolsters the confidence in the security and defense policy of the Republic of Macedonia and clarifies the link between the defense subjects and their defense activities and society on the basis of the need for ensuring unhampered conditions for development and protection of the free democratic values guaranteed by the Constitution. The defense preparations, thus, make public relations important and available to the public, encouraging at the same time interest for active participation of the citizens in creation, organization, accomplishment and control of the defense tasks. On the other side, public relations activities contribute to the strengthening of the motivation and professional attitude of the Ministry of Defense employees and the members of the Army of the Republic of Macedonia within their determination towards the defense tasks.
