

OPEN CALL FOR PARTICIPATION

Transitional Justice Seminar in Novi Pazar:

“Dealing with the past: An Introduction to Transitional Justice with a special focus on War Crimes Trials and the relevant Jurisprudence of the International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia (ICTY) and International Court of Justice (ICJ).”

Location: Novi Pazar

Date: 24 - 27 July 2018.

The seminar is intended for students in the final year of their graduate studies and postgraduate students of universities across Serbia, youth involved in political parties, public administration, media and representatives from the civil society organizations.

The seminar will cover the following topics:

- An introduction to transitional justice mechanisms;
- Truth commissions;
- Reparations;
- The International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia (ICTY) and the International Court of Justice (ICJ) with a special focus on cases dealing with Srebrenica;
- National war crimes trials;
- Crimes based on gender and sexual violence in armed conflict.

Lecturers will include domestic and regional experts in the fields of transitional justice, history, international public law, international humanitarian law, and international criminal law.

The OSCE Mission to Serbia will cover costs of transportation, accommodation and meals for seminar participants. Eligibility is restricted to applicants who are currently residing in Serbia.

Application: Please send your CV accompanied by a motivation letter to gojko.pantovic@osce.org by 8 July 2018. In your CV indicate seminars, courses and workshops that you have previously attended as well as relevant political and/or social activities you have participated in.

For additional information please contact Gojko Pantovic and Velibor Ristic at following e-mail addresses: gojko.pantovic@osce.org and velibor.ristic@osce.org.