2. Within 10 days from the announcement of the final result at a national level, the CEC shall determine, by decision, the monetary value of a valid vote, by dividing the total funds approved with the total valid votes received by the political parties participating in the elections, which have received no less than 1% of valid votes at a national level. For elections for local government bodies, the calculation shall be based on votes received for local councils at a national level.

3. By secondary legislation, the CEC shall determine other modalities of the agreement signed between the parties.

7. In the event the amount calculated in point 5 of this Article is higher than the total electoral campaign expenditures reported by the political party, or is estimated as such by the CEC following independent audits or verifications conducted by it, the political party shall be obliged to return the difference to the CEC.

The receiving teams shall consist of two CEAZ members with different political affiliations, proposed respectively by the Chair and Deputy Chair of the CEAZ. If deemed necessary, the CEAZ may appoint two persons for each team to assist the team with receiving the boxes, and to mainly deal with the arrangement of the boxes under the direction of the CEAZ. This place shall be in the same premises where the count of ballots takes place and shall be secured from any interference by unauthorised persons.

10. The ballot boxes with the ballot papers received as regular shall, in any case, be subject to procedures for opening and counting at the Ballot Counting Centres in accordance with the provisions of this Code. The legal causes, the proved cases of violations, and the detailed reasoning of their consequence shall be described in the reasoning of the CEC decision.
Article 161

(points 3 and 4 amended by Law No. 74/2012, dated 19 July 2012)

1. After the completion of the appeals process, no later than three days from the tabulation of the result of the electoral zone, the CEC, upon its own initiative or upon a request of the subject, shall declare elections invalid and order their repetition in an entire electoral zone, if the invalidation that is declared for one or more voting centres, in accordance with Article 160 of this Code, impacts the allocation of seats in the electoral zone or nationwide.

2. A case when the number of voters who have voted or could have voted in the voting centre or centres declared invalid is equal to or larger than the number of voters required for the allocation of one seat in the respective electoral zone, based on the calculation of valid votes in the electoral zone, performed in accordance with Article 162, shall be considered an impact on the allocation of seats for the elections to the Assembly. For elections of a mayor of a local government unit, a case when the number of voters in centres declared invalid is larger than the difference between the two candidates who have received the highest number of valid votes shall be considered an impact on the result.

3. In the event of invalidation due to a natural disaster, in accordance with letter “b”, or failure to start the voting or its suspension for more than five hours, in accordance with letter “c” of point 1 of Article 160, the total number of the voters registered in the voting centre that was declared invalid shall be taken into consideration.

The repetition of elections shall take place no later than 4 weeks from the date of the decision.

7. An appeal against a CEC decision whether or not to declare elections invalid shall be made in accordance with the deadlines and procedures set in this Part.
PART XII
ALLOCATION OF SEATS

CHAPTER I
SEATS FOR THE ASSEMBLY

Article 162
Calculation of seats of the electoral subjects
(second sentence of point 1 amended by Law No. 118/2020, dated 5 October 2020)

1. No later than 3 days from the completion of the appeals process against a decision on the approval of results of the electoral zone or the invalidation of elections, in accordance with this Code, the CEC shall calculate the allocation of seats for each electoral zone based on the number of valid votes obtained by the subjects in the electoral zone. For elections to the Assembly, electoral subjects receiving less than 1 percent of the valid votes countrywide shall be excluded from the distribution of mandates.

2. The number of valid votes in the electoral zone for each subject shall be divided continuously by consecutive natural numbers, called denominators, starting with the number 1 and ending with the natural number that corresponds to the number of seats allocated to the respective electoral zone. The step from one denominator to the next is 1. If the quotient obtained through the division is a decimal number, the nearest whole number shall be considered the quotient.

3. When the electoral subject is a candidate proposed by the voters, his/her votes shall be divided only by the denominator 1.

4. The quotients obtained through each division, including also the result of point 3 of this Article, shall be placed on a list ranked from the largest quotient to the smallest one, listing alongside them the subject to which the respective quotient belongs. If the quotient is a decimal number, the nearest whole number shall be considered the quotient. The ranking shall continue until as many quotients as the number of seats to be allocated in the respective electoral zone are ranked.

5. An electoral subject shall be allocated the number of seats equal to the number of quotients included in the list specified in point 4 of this Article. If there are two or more [electoral] subjects with the same quotient for the allocation of the last seat in the list specified in point 4 of this Article, the seat shall be allocated to the subject that has obtained the largest number of votes and, if they have obtained the same number of votes, then it shall be decided by lot among those subjects. The lot is drawn publicly at the CEC in the presence of the interested subjects.
Article 163

Distribution of mandates among winning candidates from the list

1. Immediately after the completion of the calculation of the result under Article 162 of this Code, the CEC shall calculate the distribution of mandates for the winning candidates for each subject.

2. The distribution of mandates shall start by a descending order, based on the candidates’ ranking on the list submitted according to Article 67 of this Code, starting from the ordinal number one, and the number of preferential votes for each candidate pursuant to the following procedures and criteria.

3. Mandates shall be first allocated to the candidates who have received a number of preferential votes higher than the quotient resulting from the division of the number of votes for the subject by the number of mandates won by the [same] subject, under Article 162 of this Code. In any case, the quotient may not be bigger than 10,000 votes. If the quotient obtained from the division is a decimal number, the nearest whole number shall be considered the quotient.

4. The candidates with a higher number of preferential votes than the quotient, according to point 3 of this Article, shall successively replace the candidates on the list with a lower number of preferential votes, who could have [otherwise] won mandates.

5. This rule shall not apply if the candidate with fewer votes belongs to the less represented gender. In this case, the replacement shall pass to the other candidate ranked immediately higher in terms of vote number, until the list is exhausted according to the same criteria. When the candidate with a higher number of votes than the quotient belongs to the same gender, the provisions of point 4 of this Article shall apply.

6. After the exhaustion of the replacement of the candidates according to points 3 and 4 of this Article, the distribution of mandates shall continue with the remaining candidates according to the ordinal number of the list.

7. The remaining candidates on the list, who do not receive mandates according to points 2 to 6 of this Article, shall be reranked based on the number of preferential votes starting from the highest number of votes. When the number of votes is equal, the ranking is determined by lot. Reranking according to this point shall be applied in accordance with Article 164 of this Code.

8. The calculation and distribution of mandates, according to Article 162 and this Article, for each electoral zone, shall be approved by decision. The decision shall be issued for each electoral zone separately. Administrative appeals may be lodged with CSC against this decision.
Article 164

Interruption of a mandate and filling in the vacancy

(amended by Law No. 74/2012, dated 19 July 2012; words added under point 2 by Law No. 31/2015, dated 2 April 2015; content of article changed by Law No. 101/2020, dated 23 July 2020; and point 5 repealed by Law No. 118/2020, dated 5 October 2020)

1. The mandate of a deputy, won in accordance with Articles 162 and 163 of this law, may be interrupted only for the reasons provided for in Article 71 of the Constitution. Preliminary individual or collective agreements or declarations to withdraw from a seat shall not constitute reasons for the interruption of the mandate. In case of letters “a” and “b” of point 2 of Article 71 of the Constitution, the deputy shall declare publicly, in front of the respective Assembly committee, his/her refusal to take the oath or his/her withdrawal from the mandate. In this case, the Assembly shall notify the CEC of the creation of the vacancy no later than 30 days.

2. The interrupted mandate of a deputy or of a member of the municipal council shall be transferred to the next candidate on the list of the same political party in the respective electoral zone, except when the filling of the vacancy with the next candidate on the list reduces the representation of the under-represented gender. In this case, the vacancy shall be filled with the first candidate on the list belonging to the underrepresented gender, regardless of the ranking in the list. The other names belonging to that gender go up in the list taking the ranking of the preceding candidate of the same gender. This rule shall not apply when the names of the respective gender are exhausted.

3. The CEC shall take a decision to fill the vacancy in the Assembly. The decision shall be notified to the candidate and published on the Official Journal. If the next candidate in line fails to appear before the Assembly within 30 days from the notification, without legitimate reasons, the mandate shall pass to the next candidate on the list, in accordance with the procedure specified in point 2 of this Article. The same procedure shall apply until the exhaustion of the list of candidates of the same political party.

4. The CEC shall take a decision to fill the vacancy in the municipal council. The decision shall be notified to the candidate. If the next candidate in line fails to appear before the municipal council within 30 days from notice, without legitimate reasons, the mandate shall pass to the next candidate in line according to the procedure set out in point 2 of this Article.

5. Repealed.
