

OSCE Police Chiefs Meeting
Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe
24 November 2006
Egmont Palace, Brussels

---

Venue

Egmont Palace, Petit Sablon 8, Brussels

Objective

As part of the OSCE's focus on organized crime in 2006, the Police Chiefs Meeting aims to:

1. Identify problems in cooperating, and put forward solutions
2. Enhance awareness of these issues at a political level
3. Increase operational cooperation
4. Increase the protection of citizens in international police cooperation

Outcome

The Chiefs of Police will adopt a statement at the closing session of the conference. A draft statement will be circulated 4 weeks prior to the start of the conference. The statement will take into account the conclusions of each of the sessions.

Participation

- Police Chiefs from the 56 OSCE participating States and from the OSCE's Asian and Mediterranean Partners
- Regional and international organizations active on police cooperation and the fight against organized crime.

Organizers

- Belgian Federal Police
- OSCE Chairmanship Unit – Federal Public Service Foreign Affairs, Foreign Trade and Development Cooperation
- Strategic Police Matters Unit (SPMU), OSCE

Programme

Opening and closing session and three main sessions organized around the following questions:

- how do we determine the priority phenomena/groups that we should deal with on a common basis?
- how do we organize our common approach to these phenomena?
- how do we organize democratic oversight of this cooperation and protect the rights of citizens?

Accommodation

In order to assist participants with accommodation, a block booking was made with three hotels near the Egmont Palace. Participants are kindly requested to arrange for rooms directly with the hotel of their choice. A hotel booking form is attached. Please also send this form to the Protocol Office of the Belgian federal police.

The deadline for booking the hotel rooms is 1 November 2006. The reservation will be handled on a first-come-first-served basis. Please make your reservation as soon as possible, and no later than 1 November 2006. After that deadline, rooms will be released from the meeting block and reservations are not guaranteed.

Provisions for personal protection

Requests for approval of armed body guards need to be channelled to the Protocol Service of the Belgian Federal Public Service Foreign Affairs through the bilateral Embassies.

Transport

A shuttle service from Brussels Airport will be available on Thursday 23 November, in the afternoon and evening, and on Friday morning 24 November.

Transport to Brussels Airport will be provided on Friday evening and on Saturday morning 25 November.

Visa

Participants requiring a visa are kindly requested to contact the Belgian diplomatic mission accredited to their country, or the Schengen-Embassy in charge of the local consular representation of Belgium.

Format

Each session will start with a presentation of approximately 7 minutes by keynote speakers, followed by comments and debate. Interventions from the floor are strongly encouraged but will be limited to 4 minutes per delegation.

Languages

Interpretation will be provided into the six official OSCE-languages: English, Russian, French, German, Italian and Spanish.

Additional interpretation booths are available in the Egmont Palace: delegations are free to include an interpreter with their delegation.

Technical equipment

The Plenary room will be equipped with technical facilities for power point presentations.
