AGENDA AND ORGANIZATIONAL MODALITIES
OF THE 2019 OSCE MEDITERRANEAN CONFERENCE ON THE
25th ANNIVERSARY OF THE MEDITERRANEAN CONTACT
GROUP: ACHIEVEMENTS, CHALLENGES AND FUTURE
OPPORTUNITIES FOR THE PARTNERSHIP

Tirana, Albania, 24 and 25 October 2019

I. Indicative agenda

Introduction

The OSCE foreign ministers reaffirmed in Milan the relevance and value of the OSCE Mediterranean Partnership. They declared that the link between security in the OSCE area and the Mediterranean region has become all the more relevant since the 2014 Basel Ministerial Meeting, as has the co-operation between the OSCE participating States and the Mediterranean Partners, especially in light of the growing range of challenges and opportunities stemming from the Mediterranean region and beyond.

The foreign ministers also called for greater engagement in advancing a common approach in tackling challenges, many of which transnational and cross-dimensional in nature, and in seizing emerging opportunities, in a spirit of genuine partnership, co-operation, and ownership.

Against this background, the 2019 Mediterranean Conference will look into ways to further our common security in the Mediterranean through dialogue and co-operation on issues of mutual interest and concern. In this context, the event will take a cross-dimensional approach, consistent with the OSCE's comprehensive security concept, focusing on topics included in the Milan Ministerial Council Declaration on Security and Co-operation in the Mediterranean (MC.DOC/4/18) and that reflect the priorities identified for the work of the Mediterranean Contact Group under the 2019 Albanian Chairmanship.

The event shall consist of a high-level political session, allowing for a broader, political discussion, and three subsequent working sessions, where the OSCE participating States and the Mediterranean Partners can discuss opportunities for co-operation and exchange experiences and good practices on how to address common challenges.

The Conference will provide a platform to discuss ways to transform the current level of engagement with the Mediterranean Partners into enhanced action-oriented dialogue and to ensure the continuity and sustainability of the Partnership's achievements, as called for by the Milan Declaration.
