Cybercrime and mechanisms of protection was the theme of discussion in the one-hour live talk show aired on 23rd November 2015 on the First Channel of Radio Television Montenegro (RTCG). This was the twelfth in the series of twenty shows named "Reaching the Trust Together", which is supported by the OSCE Mission to Montenegro.

Moderated by Andrijana Kadija, participants in the debate included Adis Balota, Dean of the Faculty for Information Technologies; Jakša Backović, Head of Unit for combating High-Tech Crime from Ministry of Interior; Dušan Krkotić, Computer Incident Response Team (CIRT) from Ministry for Information Society and Telecommunications; Žarko Pajković, Deputy Basic State Prosecutor in Kotor and Mirjana Vlahović from NGO Women's Room.

Panellists discussed key issues related to cybercrime and mechanisms of protection, explaining the role of relevant institutions and specialised teams in the fight against this type of crime. Panellists stressed the importance of good institutional communication as well as of co-operation at the regional and international level. They agreed that rapid response is of vital importance for addressing properly cybercrime cases and that citizens need to be further educated on these issues.

Ivan Mijatović, from Department for High-Tech Crime at Croatian Ministry of Interior; Saša Živanović, from Department for High-Tech Crime at Serbian Ministry of Interior and Goražd Božić, from Computer Incident Response Team (CIRT) from Ljubljana, gave their contribution to the discussion by explaining the dangers related to cybercrime and emphasising the importance of good regional and international co-operation.

The main aim of the talk shows is to serve as a platform for dialogue and to engage various segments of society in Montenegro which will serve to enhance confidence, trust, and co-operation between the public, institutions, media, and civil society.

Next episode of the series will be aired on 30th November 2015.
