

Join us for a discussion on

THE OSCE AND ITS ASIAN PARTNERS: STRENGTHENING CYBERSECURITY

June 6 at 14:00 in the plenary room

2016 Asian Conference on Strengthening Comprehensive Security
Bangkok, Thailand

The growing importance of Information and Communication Technologies, or 'ICTs', is one of the most significant trends in the current security environment. We rely on ICTs to connect us, drive economic and social growth, and enable our most critical systems - but they also create a vulnerability and complexity in international relations, fostering doubt, speculation, ambiguity, and tensions.

OSCE participating States have recognized these developments, and made significant strides in addressing these risks and promoting cooperation, transparency, predictability, and stability. Is it time to take the next step in a globalized approach to security, and for the OSCE to increase its engagement with its Asian Partners on this vital issue?

Sponsored by the

U.S. Mission to the OSCE