

Within the Open Parliament Initiative, Center for Research, Transparency and Accountability (CRTA), with the support of the OSCE Mission to Serbia announces a

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

For the second generation of participants of the "School of Democracy"

Do you want to learn more about the political and electoral system in Serbia, how the Parliament works and how it adopts legislation, what constitutes valid parliamentary procedures and how these are implemented in practice? Do you want to find out more about youth policies, human rights and gender equality and to learn how to write public policy proposals? If so, you should apply for the "School of Democracy".

This programme is primarily targeting undergraduate/post-graduate students, political party youth sections, CSO representatives and journalists.

The lectures, which will comprise three modules, will be held in October and November 2017 and include:

- Political and Electoral system in Serbia
- Parliamentary Procedures and Oversight Function of the Parliament
- Public Policies – Youth, Gender, Human Rights

HOW TO APPLY

- Applications will be accepted from 15 August to 15 September 2017
- CV and letter of motivation should be sent by email no later than 15 September 2017 to: bojana.dzulovic@crta.rs
- In the application, it is necessary to specify which category you are applying for (students, political party youth representatives, CSO representatives, journalists)
- A total of 20 participants will take part in this programme (5 students, 5 political party youth representatives, 5 CSO representatives and 5 journalists)
- Only shortlisted candidates will be invited for an interview
- For further information, feel free to contact Bojana Dzulovic by phone at +381 (0)63 591 243

The aim of the Open Parliament Initiative is to increase the transparency of Parliament, to inform citizens about its work and to establish regular communication between citizens and their elected representatives.