8.(c):

Has your country adopted legislation to address the humanitarian objectives of the convention, or taken any specific measures regarding the use, production, storage, transfer and destruction of anti-personnel landmines? In case a moratorium has been introduced, what is its scope and duration and when was it introduced?

Italian Law 58/2001 established the “Fund for Humanitarian Demining”, whose financial resources (amounting to 8.590.733 Euro in 2021) are allocated to support mine action and humanitarian objectives.

9. Does your country have any specific measures to provide assistance to victims?

Italy is strongly committed to support mine action programmes globally, including victim assistance programmes. To this end, a dedicated national trust fund for Humanitarian Demining was set up by law. The Italian Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation coordinates the allocations of resources to mine action projects relating to anti-personnel landmines, with a particular focus on assistance to victims, clearance and risk education.

10. Does your country require assistance in mine clearance, stockpile destruction, mine awareness and/or victim assistance?

NO

11. Does your country have capacity to assist others in mine action?

YES

The Italian Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation, through a dedicated trust fund and with the support of Italian NGOs, coordinates international projects to support mine action in third countries.

Italian armed forces, thanks to a national Centre of Excellence for countering all types of explosives devices, possess specific technical skills relevant to: train foreign experts in mine clearance, mine awareness and stockpile destruction; provide consultancy in the selection of materials for the clearance of mined fields; help designing and building APLs destruction plants. Relevant costs for those types of assistance should be borne by requesting States. Italy has also the capability to assist third countries in carrying out stockpile destruction for specific types of antipersonnel mines.

Italian NGOs, associations and companies have specific technical skills and previous field experience relevant for planning and implementing mine action projects in the field of mine clearance, mine awareness and victim assistance.
