STRENGTHENING DIALOGUE
among civil society & with key government stakeholders in Ukraine

"A key strength of ODIHR’s work in Ukraine has been a strong focus on partnerships that can integrate state and non-state stakeholders with complementary expertise and mandate. The result of this is the capacity to reach an appropriate level of consensus on the issues of human rights and justice.

ODIHR stands ready to utilize its expertise and knowledge tools to build even broader coalitions and raise awareness in support of human dimension issues across Ukraine." — Ingibjörg Sólrún Gísladóttir, ODIHR Director

PROJECT ACHIEVEMENTS

Dialogue
Co-operation and partnership
Capacity-building

PROJECT IN NUMBERS

Event participants
Civil society
International organizations
Other authorities

TESTIMONIES

"If we’re talking about political and social change, we have to talk about human rights. Human rights are a universal language.

Open government-building events on monitoring were organized with the Ministry of Justice and the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. All political parties were participating.

We are happy to see how partnerships are being expanded, not only between government agencies, but also between public and non-governmental organizations." — Olena Sinitsyna, Expert at the Poltava Human Rights House

"We must talk about hate crimes in the whole region, not only in our city. We must talk about people who are killed not only by子弹, but also by hate. We must talk about our past and our present." — Maria Ionova, Member of Parliament of Ukraine, Co-Chair of the Equal Opportunities Inter-Parliamentary Caucus

Impact stories

Co-operation and partnership on hate crime prevention and countering hate crimes for the Chernihiv Educational District in 2015.

Human rights represented by human rights NGOs in Ukraine and the Council of Europe.

Security in Ukraine: Combating violence against women and girls.

Development of hate crime monitoring and training training delivered for 900 members of police, security forces and judges in Eastern Europe. Hate crime monitoring training was developed in 2016 and仇恨 crime monitoring training was delivered in 2017.

Women’s rights in Ukraine: More information please visit: osce.org/odihr/ukraine

Raising awareness amoung civil society & with key government stakeholders.

Civil society & with key government stakeholders.

"The advocacy training that brings together state and non-state stakeholders with complementary expertise and mandate. The result of this is the capacity to reach an appropriate level of consensus on the issues of human rights and justice. The advocacy training was launched by the Poltava Legal Center in cooperation with SBU & SIF.

Legal Center of the Poltava region, 1500 in support of human dimension issues across Ukraine.

"Checklist on human rights, 2017:

A conference on promoting dialogue to human rights defenders in Donbas in co-operation with the Mission of the OSCE Representative on Freedom of Media in Ukraine in 2017.

Human rights in the Autonomous Republic of Crimea: OSCE commitments & international standards.

Debate on hate crimes between Rada’s representatives and citizens on the streets of Ukraine.

Support by ODIHR’s Stop Mekong Donbas in co-operation with OSCE/ODIHR. 2015*

Effectiveness of party legislation and countering hate crimes for the Chernihiv Educational District in 2015.

Support of Ministry of Justice: 2286.

Civil society & with key government stakeholders.

Combating violence against women and girls, 2017.: 529.

A new method of awareness raising aimed at reinforcing OSCE commitments.

Young people: We are happy to see how partnerships are being expanded, not only between government agencies, but also between public and non-governmental organizations.

OSCE commitments: Gender aspects of human rights.

The advocacy training that brings together state and non-state stakeholders with complementary expertise and mandate. The result of this is the capacity to reach an appropriate level of consensus on the issues of human rights and justice. The advocacy training was launched by the Poltava Legal Center in cooperation with SBU & SIF.

Human rights in the Autonomous Republic of Crimea: OSCE commitments & international standards.

Debate on hate crimes between Rada’s representatives and citizens on the streets of Ukraine.

Support by ODIHR’s Stop Mekong Donbas in co-operation with OSCE/ODIHR. 2015*

Effectiveness of party legislation and countering hate crimes for the Chernihiv Educational District in 2015.

Support of Ministry of Justice: 2286.

Civil society & with key government stakeholders.

Combating violence against women and girls, 2017.: 529.

A new method of awareness raising aimed at reinforcing OSCE commitments.

Young people: We are happy to see how partnerships are being expanded, not only between government agencies, but also between public and non-governmental organizations.

OSCE commitments: Gender aspects of human rights.

The advocacy training that brings together state and non-state stakeholders with complementary expertise and mandate. The result of this is the capacity to reach an appropriate level of consensus on the issues of human rights and justice. The advocacy training was launched by the Poltava Legal Center in cooperation with SBU & SIF.

Human rights in the Autonomous Republic of Crimea: OSCE commitments & international standards.

Debate on hate crimes between Rada’s representatives and citizens on the streets of Ukraine.

Support by ODIHR’s Stop Mekong Donbas in co-operation with OSCE/ODIHR. 2015*

Effectiveness of party legislation and countering hate crimes for the Chernihiv Educational District in 2015.

Support of Ministry of Justice: 2286.

Civil society & with key government stakeholders.

Combating violence against women and girls, 2017.: 529.

A new method of awareness raising aimed at reinforcing OSCE commitments.

Young people: We are happy to see how partnerships are being expanded, not only between government agencies, but also between public and non-governmental organizations.

OSCE commitments: Gender aspects of human rights.