

Call for Application

For the establishment of a Consultative Group of CSOs, media and academia against Environmental Crimes in Albania

Deadline 25 July 2019
Tirana, ALBANIA

The OSCE Presence in Albania, in co-operation with the WWF Adria, are launching a Call for Applications to establish a consultative group composed of CSOs, academia, investigative journalists and youth dedicated to the topic of environmental crimes.

The role of the consultative group will be to support the government agenda against environmental crimes. In order to do that, the consultative group will closely interact with the government inter-institutional group against environmental crimes (IGEC) to share expertise, join forces and to provide strategic direction and advice to the fight against environmental crimes in Albania.

Through meetings, field visits, consultative sessions, the participants will work together and interact with each other to share information, co-operate, join synergies and interact with the inter-institutional group against environmental crimes (IGEC) regarding.
